Rechecking supt. vote

A second re-check of the county superintendent of education balloting in the run-off primary was in progress at press time Wednesday after a recount by the county Democratic executive committee last week reduced the margin between the two candidates to four votes. The first unofficial count showed a difference of nine votes.

The Democratic committee certified as nominee Robert F. Linder over the incumbent, Kenneth McCarty.

Attorneys for the two candidates commenced their own re-check of the votes about 9 a.m. Wednesday and by mid-afternoon were on the fourth precinct. They were checking boxes from Standard, Dedaux, Crans Creek, the three precincts in Beat 3, and were in Kila A-K section. Indications are the task may continue to the weekend.

The group occupied the board of supervisors' room in the Courthouse with Circuit Clerk Lamar Ode sitting in, Arthur Nacaise, third man in the first primary, and two or three members of the county Democratic committee, were the only spectators. McCarty's attorney is Joel Blass of Wiggins and Randall Jones of Pass Christian is representing Linder.

When the Democratic committee convened Thursday morning for the official canvass of the second primary, Kenneth McCarty, Jr., representing his father, called for a recount on the basis of the possibility of human error in the election managers' counting in view of the slim difference and the large number of votes cast.

The committee agreed to undertake the task in spite of opposition from H. G. Dean, Beat 1 supervisor who was sitting in on the session. He argued there was no ground for the move unless fraud was believed.

Committee chairman Joe Colman asked the 20-odd bystanders to leave the room while the committee met in executive session to discuss the recount. It was decided that the recount would take place according to McCarty's request and as agreed to by Linder, but the meeting would be closed except to the committee members, the two candidates, a representative of each, and the press.

Major reasons given for the closed recount was to avoid possible interference as the committee divided into two teams to speed the process. Leo Seal, Jr., secretary and Colson headed the teams, each candidate having a representative at each station.

Chances in box totals went as follows: Courthouse A-K, Linder -3; McCarty -2; Edwardsville, Linder -2; McCarty -1; Aaron Academy, McCarty -1; Flattop, Linder -1; McCarty -1; Courthouse M-Z, Linder -2; McCarty -1; Crans Creek, Linder

Redistrict plan aired

A basic redistricting formula for Hancock County apparently evolved from the board of supervisors' session Tuesday as the four incumbents renominated in last week's run-off primary informally discussed the situation now that their next four years in office seems assured.

Moving their consideration of the topic, which occupied the major portion of a relatively brief first-of-the-month meeting seemed to be the suit brought by a group of local taxpayers which is scheduled for hearing before the State Supreme Court on Monday, Sept. 16.

The board talked in terms of reaching a tentative over-all decision when it reconvenes next Monday but there were indications it may run into differences of opinion on relative importance of such items as geographic location, road maintenance, population, revenue and the effect of NASA coming to Hancock County.

Supervisor James D. Nacaise of the large in the size but sparsely populated Beat 4 told his colleagues he needed help on upkeep and construction of roads and bridges.

Supervisor H. G. Dean, whose Beat 1 is second in size to Beat

4 but who loses considerable territory to NASA's Mississippi Test Operations buffer zone, said he would be willing to take over the Lakeshore area of Beat 3 as R. G. Hubbard, Jr., of heavily populated 5, biggest revenue-producing beat, cited heavy demands for road building with new subdivisions.

Hubbard proposed redistricting in terms of three beats running from the coast north to the Jordan River or north of Kila and Nacaise, after checking the map, expressed concurrence with a boundary along the section line two and a half miles north of Kila. The Beat 4 supervisor urged that the board get together on the topic "without a lot of people around" and come up with a solution.

Dean observed it would be difficult to redistrict until it could be determined where the growth and relocation from the NASA project is going, adding later he had favored a decision after the supervisors' election. He noted the cost of continuing of maintaining roads in the buffer zone with heavy trucks of the plywood industry unless some relief can be secured from the federal government.

"You'll never be able to redistrict Bay St. Louis and Waveland with roads equal to the rest of county," Dean said flatly, arguing that Beat 5 did not have the heavy costs in this field as the other beats. Nacaise argued that his beat presently contained enough roads and bridges to constitute three beats.

Beat 2 Supervisor L. M. Priester was absent and it was suggested his successor, Dolph Kellar, be consulted on his views of running a relocated beat between the present 1 and 5. Kellar presently resides in the area to be taken over for MTO buffer zone and the board noted since he will have to move he might relocate in territory from which he might seek re-election.

Lucien M. Cox, attorney for the board who appeared later in the session, cautioned supervisors if they were to vote in redistricting now they would have to run for office again since they presently are members of the Democratic party. He suggested the board appoint a committee of "respectable people, like you did with port commission," to study redistricting and said he would "be coming pretty close to a solution." The board, however, did not go into that proposal within the board room.

Hubbard contended the plan should show equal voter representation which he contended in the neighborhood of 1,200 per district. Dean argued that the farmers were the consideration for acreage against an apartment dealer, therefore rural beats be

Pupil population shows 300 gain

The pupil count is going up. Preliminary figures at opening of the 1963-64 school year show some 300 more enrolled in schools in Hancock County than at the start of school year.

Present estimate is in excess of 4,600. By the time the new had been checked in October, 1962, the count was 4,300. In 1961 it was 4,146. Again the biggest gain has been in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District where Superintendent J. D. McCarty said 1,835 pupils Wednesday against 1,642 a year ago.

Bay High School has an enrollment of 464 and there are 811 white pupils in grades one through eight. Valena C. Jones School for Negroes has 560.

Hancock North Central School counted 701 Wednesday, the decrease from last year's 750 apparently due in part to opening of the new Church of Annunciation elementary school at Kila. Annunciation opened Tuesday with an enrollment of 65.

Gulfview School at Lakeshore stood at 184 Tuesday and Principal Oren Seal says he expects to pick up pupils right along. Loggins School is down at 115 from 147 last year, due to NASA's occupation of a large part of its territory for the rocket test site.

Our Lady of the Gulf Parish School reflected a gain over last year with about 550 now enrolled, some of this coming from addition of a kindergarten this year.

St. Stanislaus College reported 437 pupils at the opening Wednesday compared to 407 a year ago and St. Joseph Academy estimated 290, also an increase.

Christ Episcopal Day School opens Friday with 220 formally registered to date, up 30 from last year.

St. Rose de Lima School gained somewhat also with about 140 in elementary grades and 70 in high school.

GE signs support contract at MTO

NASA announced Wednesday it has completed negotiations with General Electric Co. to provide support services at Mississippi Test Operations for one year (July 1, 1963 to June 30, 1964) at a cost of $2,393,500. Work will be directed by Marshall Space Flight Center.

GE will receive an additional $110,000 for planning plant test support services at MTO. During the 90 day period which began June 28, 1963, most of the planning work to be done at the Marshall Center.

GE was selected by NASA in February, 1962, to support NASA manned lunar landing program in the system integration check out and reliability.

In April NASA announced it would negotiate with the company to provide support services at MTO as part of the firm's overall participation in project Apollo.

Actual test operations at MTO will be conducted by various stage and engine contractors under the direction of MSFC. The support effort provided by GE will include: plant support, such

Call jury for court on Monday

More than 70 civil cases are on the docket for the September term of Circuit Court which opens at 9 a.m. Monday with Judge Leslie B. Grant presiding but indications are the grand jury's calendar of criminal indictments will be rather light.

Bay-Waveland is winner of Lipton

The Bay-Waveland team won the coveted Sir Thomas Lipton Challenge Cup, most important trophy of the Gulf Yachting Association, in a regatta at Southern Yacht Club over Labor Day weekend.

With competition from the top skippers of 13 yacht clubs from New Orleans to St. Petersburg, Fla., the local skippers, Chuck Broad, Bill Reeves, Harry Chapman and Don Chamberlain carried off the prize in what was perhaps the most body-contested Lipton series in the 44-year history of the contest.

In the first race Saturday Broad, with Alfred Watts and Clay Chamberlain crewing, finished seventh while in the second, Reeves, with Bob Bell and Tipper Thompson as crew, earned second place.

Sunday afternoon Chapman, with Thompson and John Dugan crewing aboard, pulled a steady race near the front of the fleet for the grueling three rounds and gave the local club another second place finish. This put BWYC out in front with a 2 3/4 points lead over Southern and 3 over Gulfport.

Monday morning dawned with moderate breezes on Labor Day

Chamberlain ready to go with Walter Chamberlain and Jack Gordon as crew. Six of the 13 clubs were still in contention with three of them uncomfortably close in total points. Then came the incident that turned the tide.

Richard Reeves, BWYC Lipton captain, lost this account to the Schoes.

"After 12 of the 13 fish class always had left their slips and headed for the race course the skipper, team captain and crew of the Lingering boat were caught red-handed towing off a piece of the golf jaw to improve the speed and performance of their boat - an act which is strictly contrary to all rules governing sailing events of this type."

"This boat happened to be that of BWYC's nearest and hottest competitor. Although this boat called the race and subsequently led the fleet in at the finish her job was up - her disqualification in this greatest hearing which followed the race was inevitable, as disciplinary action other than loss of the race was imposed upon the offending parties. Under the circumstances,

North County News

By JOHN NECAISE

The Hawks, under head coach Ezell Lee and new assistant coach Pat Morris, have been practicing for the past weeks making ready for the up coming football season. First game Friday at East Central and first home game is Sept. 13 with Ocean-Springs.

Many of the boys from last years squad are going out as well as many new boys, proving that interest in the pig skin sport is building fast at HNC. Bleachers are being added to the home field this year. So those who turned out in support of the team last season and sat on chairs, cars, etc., can return this year and bring a friend or two. Facing a rough season the Hawks, decked out in new uniforms are eager and ready.

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for several couples who took that final step last weekend. Miss Jeannie Gatewood and Joe Vernon Haas were married at Annunciation church Saturday past. The couple are residing in Kiln. Elaine Holden and Hollie Lee were also wed last weekend.

A candle light ceremony at Lee chapel No. 2, Leetown, was the setting for Faye McNeese and Lynn Ladner's wedding vows last Saturday. The Ladners residence is in Leetown.

Some of the crowd spotted at old Kiln School last Tuesday to hear votes being counted were Linda Bilbo, Gerald Maffray, Herman Ray Neclase, Lynn Bills, Shelby Holden, Bennie Henley, Diane Bilbo, Joann Ladner, Mary Elen and Paulette Hall. Clarence Neclase, Edna Moran, Jimmy Shaw, Paula Faye Haniel, Doug Neclase.

By Roger Babson's staff How's business?

The heading upsurge of general business subsided a little in August. Hence, our Composite Business Chart shown below slipped to a reading of 130.1 for the month, down from 131.4 in July. However, the pace was still well above the year-ago effort.

The slight easing off in business was due primarily to two key sectors of the economy, steel and automobile output, with little real change evident elsewhere. Automobile production fell 1 sharply as model changeover shadowed took hold. The main retardant, however, lodged in the steel industry—where production continued to reflect the effects of retrenchment by steel users, whose requirements have been met by falling back on inventories piled up earlier in the year.

The brightest spot in the business picture, insofar as the future is concerned, was the sharp snapback in demand and output of paperboard products. This is an excellent barometer for forecasting factory shipments and retail trade over near-term months, and the rise reflects optimistic anticipations of business sales in the fall period.

Retail trade continued to run at a brisk pace. Consumer buying remained under the favorable influence of upward-trending personal incomes, the latter reaching a new all-time high in the month. Also, employment held at a peak rate, bolstering consumer confidence.

A prolonged railroad tie-up could do immeasurable damage to the business upsurge. However, a strike is not now likely in view of government action to prevent a break in operations, steel and auto favor a resumption of the rising posture for industrial activity when the new-model autos

Arrests reported by sheriff's men

Robert Garmen, Negro, of St. George Street, is being held in Hancock County jail on charges of assault and battery, carrying armed robbery and auto theft involving R. B. Evans of Nacisco Avenue. Deputy Sheriff Robert Coleman reported this week.

Coleman said Evans, now known with NASA from Kansas, arrived at the Courthouse about 3 a.m. Tuesday and said he had gone into a Negro bar on Synagogue Street, met a man and driven with him to Middlehaven where Evans was assaulted and ejected from his car. He had talked to the Courthouse. The car was recovered about 5:30 a.m. at Tenline and Carroll and Garmen was found at home after being identified by the barkeeper.

Gerald J. Eise, 24, was arrested Aug. 29 by Deputy Donald Marquer on charges of passing a bad check and trying to get money falsely. Chief Deputy Gerald V. Price, Jr., said the man also is wanted in New Orleans.

Serving sentences totaling 60 days each after convictions before Best 5 JP Russell Elliott are Marvin Frank Morris and Gene Howard Morris who claim to be from Maine and Arkansas. They were arrested by Price Aug. 22 in front of Texas Motel on U. S. 90 after Deputy Bernice Plazas became suspicious of their actions on a side road off Washington Street. They were in a 1963 Ford station wagon sold Aug. 8 to Ernest Boling who was not located until last Friday. The FBI and Ford O'Neal of the state highway patrol are investigating other charges.

Lone accidents reported for the holiday weekend were from City Policeman Latham Garriga. He said there was minor property damage when cars driven by August Wagner of New Orleans and Annie L. Niolet of Rt. 1, Pass Christian collided at Washington and Hancock Streets Saturday night. A bride of one day, Mrs. Gilbert R. Walker of Gulfport, was sent to Hancock General Hospital Sunday night with fractured ribs after the car operated by her husband collided with one driven by Barry J. Thomas of Bay St. Louis at Dunbar Avenue and U. S. 90. Chief Alvin Sautier investigated with Garriga.

Hubbard argued that representation by population had been the basis for recent court decisions and pointed again to the revenue produced in Beat 3.

Dean said he was willing to take a step before November, even if it were piecemeal and Nacisco said he was ready to act immediately, expressing the view that his territory created a problem. After Nacisco and Charles Levinghouse of Beat 3 indicated concurrence on their needs, it was informally agreed that Dean and Hubbard would confer with Kellar, try to allocate proportionately the electorate and come up with a plan for three coastal beats.

this in itself amounted to a very severe penalty.

Chamberlain finished sixth in the race, good enough to give the local club 99 points and the winning margin of 12 3/4 points.

Pass Christian was second, followed by Gulfport, Biloxi and Ocean Springs. Bay-Waveland was a weak third with the 1964 season beginning Sunday.

THANK YOU

I have had the honor of serving the good people of Beat 5 of Hancock County for the past 12 consecutive years, and now due to ill health I certainly appreciate the voters recognizing my physical condition and releasing me of this trust, which had been placed in me as one of your Justices of the Peace.

I wish my successor the best of luck and assure you all that I will be available at all times to assist the people of this fine community, as I always have in the past. Especially, will I devote more of my time to the youth, who are actually our most important citizens. I definitely appreciate the tremendous vote given me and wish to thank all of you who worked so hard for me, and who cast their votes in my behalf, and many thanks to the many youths for the assistance, they gave me in my campaign.

Sincerely,

Nellus C. Rhodes, Sr.

Trapani captures softball finale

In the final softball tournament of the season Trapani came from behind in the seventh and final inning to edge past Industrial Enameling 5-3 at City Ball Park Sunday.

In first round play Trapani knocked off Roland 4-3, Industrial beat Reinke 4-1, and behind the shutout pitcher, Everett Necaise. A CYO rally fell short and they lost to Krankey 7-5. CYO scored four runs in the seventh. Paul Raynaud had three hits to lead the winners. Southern Realty blanked Lader's Seafood 10-0. Charley Tartavouille led Realty batsmen with three hits in as many as times at bat.

In the second round Trapani nipped Krankey 6-5, Bob Giveans led the winners with two hits in as many times at bat. Raynaud again led Krankey with 3 for 3. Industrial upset league and playoff champions Southern Realty 8-2. Bob Resner and Lionel Fayard's two hits for four tries led Industrial.

Trapani grabbed a quick lead in the finals in the top of the first with a lead off homer to Raymond Strong. Industrial moved ahead in the third with a three run outburst on three singles, a error and a fielder's choice. That was all the scoring until the seventh when Trapani broke loose for four runs. With the bases loaded and two outs Clayton Adams hit a single to left field that got by the short fielder and everybody scored making the score 5-3. Bob Giveans led the victors with 3-3. Gus Alme was the winning pitcher with Everett Necaise absorbing the loss.

In the fast-pitch exhibition Reinke came from behind to down Industrial 10-7. Trailing 5-2 going into the last inning Reinke broke loose for eight runs to put the game out of reach. Charley Tartavouille was three for four for Reinke. Harold Pavolini was 3 for 4 led Industrial. Biggie Necaise was the winner and Everett Necaise was the loser.
